CommsChat with Richard Bailey

A CommsChat on the theme of learning led by public relations educator Richard Bailey, academic, lecturer, and editor of Behind the Spin.

With the proliferation of available communications training courses, are PR practitioners learning more than ever? Or are there drawbacks to applying academic credentials to creative comms?

On Monday 28 November, #CommsChat looked at these questions, resulting in 58 pages of transcript and attracting some new contributors.

CommsChat would like to thank its sponsors.
